- Custom training is always private - one instructor, one company per session. This provides you with a tailored learning experience that allows us to focus on your specific training goals.
- We recommend using your parts and designs, and will be happy to sign your Non-Disclosure Agreement for training on proprietary part designs. Or, you can choose from our large and diverse library of samples to use for your training examples.
- Our classroom holds (6) attendees, each able to use their own workstation pre-loaded with the latest version of software while the instructor leads via overhead projector.
- On-site training is available! We will bring a projector and require (2) electrical outlets, a desk or table for the projector to sit on, and a blank screen or clean wall space to project upon. You are welcome to set up your systems so attendees can work along, or simply follow along with the instructor round-table style.

*Additional travel costs may apply.

- A current Streamingteacher subscription* is required in order to attend training, as Streamingteacher courseware is used exclusively for the Mastercam study materials, and highly recommended for continued learning after the completion of our class. Streamingteacher provides over 150 hours of classroom study material, examples, projects and sample files.

*Sold separately, go to www.streamingteacher.com to order.
